Section 106/Cultural Resources Interstate Trust Fund

- The Interstate Historic Preservation Trust Fund was created as part of the Tampa Interstate Study (TIS) Section 106 Memorandum of Agreement (MOA)
- Established with funds from the sales of the FDOT relocated and rehabilitated homes that were deeded to the City of Tampa and sold primarily to first time home-buyers
- The money from the sale of the rehabilitated homes was used to establish the Interstate Historic Preservation Trust Fund
- The Trust Fund supports a revolving Loan Program established for Historic Districts Impacted by the Tampa Interstate Study FEIS 1996 (West Tampa, Tampa Heights and Ybor City)
- Subsequent to the establishment of the Loan Program, the City of Tampa established a Grant program that is funded by the interest on the Trust Fund monies

Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act

Requires Federal agencies (i.e. FHWA) to take into account the effects of their undertaking on historic properties, and afford the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation a reasonable opportunity to comment.

What is the National Register of Historic Places (NRHP)?

The National Register of Historic Places is the Nation's official list of cultural resources worthy of preservation. Authorized under the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966, the National Register is part of a national program to coordinate and support public and private efforts to identify, evaluate, and protect our historic and archaeological resources.

NRHP Criteria for Evaluation

The quality of significance in American history, architecture, archaeology, engineering, and culture is present in districts, sites, buildings, structures, and objects that possess integrity of location, design, setting, materials, workmanship, feeling, and association, and:

- A. That are associated with events that have made a significant contribution to the broad patterns of our history; or
- B. That are associated with the lives of persons significant in our past; or
- C. That embody the distinctive characteristics of a type, period, or method of construction, or that represent the work of a master, or that possess high artistic values, or that represent a significant and distinguishable entity whose components may lack individual distinction; or
- D. That have yielded or may be likely to yield, information important in prehistory or history.
